Montpelier Seminary's Prospects.

The seminary base ball team held its first out door practice on the campus this afternoon. Over twenty candidates are trying for the team. Baldwin is working into fine form. He is an old second base man, but has been catching Huntington lately and he shows the signs of making a good catcher. Baldwin will doubtless make the team all right, but it is uncertain whether he will play second or catch.
All the candidates are coming into good form and the prospects are favorable for a snappy team. Montpelier will doubtless win some good school ball games this spring and early summer.—Montpelier Journal.

CROWLEY WON CASE.

Given $120 in the Suit Brought by Liberty Lined Oil Co.

Montpelier, April 4.—The case of Liberty Lined Oil Company vs. J. C. Crowley was concluded Saturday in county court and was submitted to the jury before 11 o'clock after the arguments were made by F. J. Marshall and George T.
Swasey for the plaintiff and John Gordon for the defendant. It was before noon that the jury returned a verdict for the defendant to recover his costs. In this case the plaintiff sued to recover about $120 for lined oil that he claimed the defendant had bought of him. The defendant, however, claimed, that although he ordered some oil of the plaintiff, he stipulated that he would not accept it unless it was pure oil or at least of high standard.
He claimed that the oil received was of an inferior grade and unfit for the use to which he desired to put it, and refused to accept it.

MIRACULOUS
ESCAPES

In a Train Wreck at Proctor.

THREE CARS SMASHED

All the Occupants of the Train Escape With Only Slight Bruises.

Rutland, April 2.—The sleeper for Mon-treat due to leave this city at 2:10 o'clock in the morning struck a broken switch just north of the Proctor station, six miles from here this morning and the three sleeping cars were derailed and badly wrecked.
The fact that only two persons were injured in the accident is almost miraculous as the sides of two of the cars were smashed.
The injured were Harry Brooks, porter, bad scalp wound and body bruises; Samuel Ellis, porter, scalp wound and right shoulder badly bruised.

MONTPELIER LICENSES.

Those of the Second Class will Not Be Granted Until April 12.

Montpelier April 4.—At a meeting of the license commissioners Friday night it was voted to grant first class licenses to Jesse Viles of the Pavilion, A. S. Sparrow of the Montpelier house, William Miller and Serafino Macosco. This cuts out E. S. Melje. All the others, with the exception of Macosco, held licenses last year.
The second class licenses will not be granted until April 12 but the commissioners have given notice to both the second class licensees, Frank Huntington and L. N. Wood, that they will not receive licenses this year. They did this in order to give them a chance to dispose of their stocks of liquor now on hand.

ONE BROTHER HELD.

Reuben Bronson Must Face Grand Jury —Brother Charged.

Bloomfield, April 2, 1904.—After a day spent in listening to the contradictory testimony introduced on behalf of the contending factions in the Lyon and Bronson feud, Judge Beattie, late this afternoon, discharged Reuben Bronson, at the request of State's Attorney Lund and held Reuben Bronson without bail on the charge of murdering Charles Lyon last Thursday night.

RAILROAD BRIDGE WRECKED.

Six Bents Carried Away on Central Between Albion and Rouses Point.

St. Albans, April 2.—The high water, wind and heavy masses of ice swept away six bents from the Central Vermont railroad bridge between Albion and Rouses Point last night. The bents covered a distance of about 140 feet and the ice is still stopping against the bridge today. Wrecking trains from either end are attempting to repair the damage already done and to stop further destruction.

Good Roads.

Burlington, April 4.—The executive committee of the recently organized Good Roads Association will meet in this city soon for the purpose of discussing ways and means for conducting a campaign of education in the interest of state road improvement.

The matter of securing the enactment of better road laws will be taken up and it is certain that at least one bill will be introduced in the next legislature with this end view.

Death of Mrs. Alice LaFier.

Mrs. Alice LaFier, aged 37 years, died this morning at her home on Beekley street, after a week's illness with pneumonia. She leaves a husband and five children. The body was taken this afternoon by the 3:05 train, to West Chazy, N. Y., for interment.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Mr. and Mrs. Ozias Cheever have moved into the house recently purchased by them on Highland ave.

Joseph Odgers has returned from the hospital in Burlington where he was successfully operated on for appendicitis.

Mrs. Thomas Carson left for Burlington this morning where she will enter the Mary Fletcher hospital for treatment.

Eugene Sullivan says that Mike Keefe, in a recent letter, states that John Ryan has been set free through the efforts of the American consul. Mr. Keefe brought the case before the consul and it was proved that Mr. Ryan is an American citizen.
John is now in France still hunting for a free country.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. LeBaron were given a very enjoyable surprise party by their friends Saturday evening, at their home on Jefferson street, in honor of the 12th anniversary of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. LeBaron were invited to a sugar party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Allen's in the afternoon and on their return found their house taken possession of by their friends. The evening was most enjoyable spent and Mr. and Mrs. Le-Baron were presented a handsome hall piece with mirror. Refreshments were served.

EASTER DAY
OBSERVANCE

Raw, Chilly Day Did Not Interfere With Services

LARGE CONGREGATIONS

Special Services, Music and Decorations Made the Day Notable in Barre.

Cold and drear without, Easter day did not present a very cheerful exterior, but in all the places of worship the glory of the Risen Christ was made to appeal to all by the flowers, the music and the sermons of the day. And it seemed as if there were never so large congregations in Barre churches as gathered at the morning service yesterday.

REV. MR. BRADLEY
OPENS PASTORATE

Greeted by a Large Congregation on His First Sunday at the Universalist Church.

Easter was most fittingly observed at the Universalist church yesterday and a large congregation attended both the morning and evening services. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. A. M. Bradley preached the first sermon of his pastorate here. The altar was beautifully decorated with lilies and other potted plants appropriate to the occasion. The choir, composed of Mrs. M. D. Lamb, Edmund Mitchell, Miss Carrie C. Stearns and Wm.
Sheriffs, rendered a special musical programme which was very enjoyable. They were assisted by W. J. Gilbertson, continent and H. A. Gould, violinist, who added not a little to the success of their work.
Mr. Gould played a solo during offertory very acceptably.

At the evening service a very successful concert was given by the Sunday school.
The subject of the morning sermon was "Let Go the Cross," and the pastor spoke in part as follows: "Love, hope, trust and believe all joys are yours. Let go the cross.
If one stays with his cross his life is of no use. Jesus rose above his cross leaving behind all his sorrows and tribulations. Let go the cross is the plea of a Savior who has nailed to the cross but of one who has risen above his cross to a freedom which he himself had never known. Shrouded in mystery as the resurrection was to the disciples it was not as mysterious as it is today.

They celebrated the physical resurrection. The life work of Jesus all rested on his resurrection. There is no fact more fully realized than that the disciples were disheartened and that their faith was gone after the crucifixion. We should not be too hard on them. Put yourself in their place. Nothing was more far from their minds than that they should ever see Jesus again, and when he appeared to them they were inspired with joy. He inspired them with new faith to himself; and some of them recalled His saying, "Some time you will destroy this temple and in these days it shall rise again."

"The first Easter day did not leave the disciples where He left them, it made them into a new life with some faith in Jesus.
They still believed him the Messiah but not the old Messiah, for out of the old shall come the new. We know that the cross is for the Christians but we rarely look beyond it. We have heard a good deal about the cross bearing but we never think about letting go the cross. On the dawning of this Easter morning let us pray that we may let go of our crosses and rise above to lives of helpfulness and joy."

The Rev. Mr. Bradley was born in Brewster, Mass., in 1856, and comes of Pilgrim stock, being a descendant of Elder Brewster. At the age of seventeen years he went before the mast, sailing around Cape Horn. He spent a short time in South America and then went to San Francisco, where he entered the employ of the California Furniture company, one of the largest furniture firms in that state.
With this company he spent fifteen years, being superintendent of the shops and manager of a branch store in Honolulu.
He was afterwards employed as draftsman and designer for C. F. Webber & Co. of San Francisco.

Then he took up the work of a lay preacher, having already had considerable experience in religious work as superintendent of a Sabbath school. In 1895, through the recommendation of the Rev.
Dr. Shinn, he was appointed by the general conference of the Universalist church as superintendent of the society missions in the Pacific states. He then left his business engagements, and gave himself up entirely to the new activity. Much of the time was spent in travelling.

In the fall of 1897, on account of family affairs, he came east and has since resided in the state of Maine, holding pastorates at Winthrop and Rockville. He has been pastor of the churches at Bangorville and Guilford for the past two years. His pastorate in those places has been eminently successful. That Mr. Bradley is gifted with an unusual amount of energy is shown by the fact that since he accepted the call to the Barre Universalist church he has raised a debt of $2,400 on the Ban-gerville church. He accepted the call to the Barre church the last of February.
Besides he has helped very materially in painting and otherwise repairing the church, since deciding to come to Barre.

and raising pledges for the new pastor's salary. Last Sunday five of the young people of the parish were received into the membership of the church.
Mrs. Bradley, with her mother, Mrs. H.
C. Emery, will come to Barre when their household goods arrive. Mrs. Bradley is particularly interested in boys' club work.
She has a class of about 50 boys in Ban-gerville and Guilford. She also preaches for her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley will occupy the Universalist parsonage on Church street.

Church of the Good Shepherd.

The Church of the Good Shepherd was prettily decorated for Easter, the chancel and rail being covered with flowers. The church was filled at the morning service when the rector, the Rev. Brian C. Robb, delivered an appropriate sermon.
The boy choir, under the direction of Mrs.
A. W. Allen, sang special Easter selections, and in the evening the children's carols were sung. The services were most impressive. The church was crowded last evening. More than half of those who made their Easter communion were present at the six o'clock service.
The following choir boys received respective bronze and silver crosses, which marked the best attendance for the past year: Gordon Fayzette and Ashton Holt, Harry McLeod, Rupert Jones, Harry Dale, Arthur Cole and Aldrich Lebourveau. Mr. and Mrs. Allen were also presented with a choir cross, and Miss Olive Williams, who for the past four years has served either as Sunday school or church organist, was given a gold cross. The orchestra under the direction of Alexander Coburn, assisted the children in their carols.

Baptist Church.

Well-attended meetings were held at the Baptist church yesterday. At the morning service, the pastor, the Rev. W. A.
Kinsie, preached a sermon on the day's significance. He was assisted in the service by the Rev. E. M. Fuller. The church was filled. At the evening service both the auditorium and the vestry were filled to their utmost capacity to hear the Easter concert, which consisted of singing by a chorus of 30 voices, assisted by an orchestra, and speaking by members of the Sunday school. The special decorations were quite effective.

At the Presbyterian Church.

Easter was appropriately observed at the Presbyterian church yesterday at both morning and evening services and large congregations attended. At the morning service a special musical programme was rendered by the choir and the pastor, Rev.
T. H. Mitchell, delivered a sermon appropriate to the occasion. The altar was prettily decked with Easter lilies. In the evening there was the regular sermon by the pastor and the choir rendered Easter anthems; also a solo was given by Perley Pope.

St. Monica's Church.

At St. Monica's church yesterday three morning masses were celebrated at 8 o'clock, 9 o'clock and at 10:30, which were all largely attended. At high mass a fine musical programme was given by the choir and an Easter collection was taken up. The altar was abundantly decorated with lilies.
The Easter collection amounted to about $6.50.

At the Congregational Church.

The Congregational church was crowded to overflowing at the morning service yesterday and there was another large audience at the evening service. There was a lavish display of Easter lilies and other potted plants. Special musical numbers were given at both services and Rev. F.
A. Poole delivered a strong sermon at the morning service on "Immortality."

Hedding Methodist Church.

At the Hedding Methodist church there was no service in the morning yesterday on account of the conference at Montpelier. But in the evening Rev. Dr. Berry of Chicago, editor of the Epworth Herald, gave a very interesting address and special music was rendered by the choir.

REV. A. D. BROWN
PASSES AWAY

Former Pastor of Church of Good Shepherd.

PRESIDENT OF NORWICH

Death, Due to Bright's Disease, Occurred in No. Carolina—Burial at Brattleboro Thursday.

Rev. Allan D. Brown, ex-president of Norwich University and formerly rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd in this city, died at Waynesville, N. C., yesterday morning of Bright's disease. He had been in failing health the past two years and for that reason resigned as president of the university last commencement.
The body will be brought to Brattleboro for interment. The funeral will be held from St. Michael's church, in that place, Thursday morning. A delegation from Norwich University and also citizens of Northfield and Barre will attend the funeral.

Allan D. Brown was born September 2, 1843, in Batavia, N. Y. He was a graduate from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1863 and until 1869 was in the naval service, having reached the rank of lieutenant-commander at that time. He then served as instructor in the Naval Academy for three years and again went into the naval service. Then for four years he was instructor in the academy again and promoted to the grade of commander. He then re-entered the service of the navy until 1889 when he was prostrated by malarial fever and in 1891, being still incapacitated, he was placed on the retired list.
He went to Brattleboro to live and took orders in the Episcopal church, being assigned to Christ church in Guilford. In 1894 he was advanced to the priesthood and given charge of the church in Barre.
Two years later he was obliged to resign on account of ill health.

It was during his rectorship and largely due to his energetic work that the present church edifice was erected.

In November, 1896, he was elected president of Norwich university. He at once took an active part in the work of the institution, securing permanent state aid to the institution and getting it recognized as the state military institution. Probably the greatest monument to his personal work is the erection of Dewey hall, the corner stone of which was laid by Admiral Dewey during his visit to Vermont in 1898.

In 1893 Commander Brown and Gertrude Tyler of Brattleboro were married, she dying in 1870. In 1880 he married Adeline Pearce of Philadelphia, who, with a son, W. P. Brown, and a daughter of his first wife, wife of the Rev. G. J. Sutherland, survive him.

DIED AFTER OPERATION.

Edward Duprey, Aged 19 Years, Had Appendicitis.

Edward Duprey, age 19 years, died at 6:15 o'clock this morning at the Heaton hospital in Montpelier, from the effects of an operation for appendicitis. He was taken sick last Thursday at the home of M. L. Towne, where he was employed, and was taken to the hospital Friday for an operation. He is survived by one sister in this city, Mrs. William Duprey, of Seminary street, where the body will be brought today.

The funeral arrangements will not be made until the arrival of the boy's father who lives in Moores Junction, N. Y.

nate Mr. Faulkner to fill one of the vacan-nie Bros.

and surrounding towns to keep a lookout for the man.
